Sri Lanka Law College

Sri Lanka Law College situated in Hulftsdorp Street of Colombo, Sri Lanka, was established in 1874 under the then-one-year-old Council of Legal Education in order to impart a formal legal education to those who wished to become advocates and proctors in Ceylon.

The Sri Lanka Law College is the institution which has trained almost all the lawyers in Sri Lanka and it is the only gateway to the legal profession in the country. The history of training for the legal profession in Sri Lanka goes as far back as 1833, the year in which the Supreme Court was empowered by Section 17 of the Charter of 1833, to admit and enroll as Advocates and Proctors, persons of good repute and of competent knowledge and ability upon examination by one or more of the judges of the Supreme Court. This was done in order to provide sufficient legal practitioners to work in the judicial system established by the British Colonial administration.

In order to practice law in Sri Lanka a lawyer must be admitted and enrolled as an 'Attorneys-at-Law of the Supreme Court of Democratic Socialist Republic of Sri Lanka'. To receive admission to the Bar, a law student must complete law examinations held by Sri Lanka Law College.

Sri Lanka Law College conducts oratory competitions, mooting, workshops and boasts a strong Law Students' Union. Sri Lanka Law College conducts post graduate courses including a Master of Laws (LLM) from University of Wales and diplomas in Intellectual Property Law and International Trade Law.

The main building of Sri Lanka Law College was constructed in 1911 and the premises has an Auditorium, Library, Computer Room with IT facilities, Canteen, Bookshop, and lecture halls.

As one of the oldest professional training bodies it has trained all the lawyers in the country who have served not only in the field of law but also various other fields such as politics, social reforms, commerce, trade unions and religion.

Lanka'. To receive admission to the Bar, a law student must complete law x

A Journey of Empowering Independent Learning

iGuide, the first ever educational assistance platform at Sri Lanka Law College, was established in 2016, as the education arm of the Independent Law Student Movement.

Since then, iGuide has been a dynamic platform dedicated to 'empowering independent learning', thus enhancing the academic prospects of Sri Lanka Law College.

Our journey so far...

Question 48: Answer: The International Criminal Court

The International Criminal Court (ICC or ICCT) is an intergovernmental organization and international tribunal that sits in The Hague, Netherlands.

The ICC is the first and only permanent international court with jurisdiction to prosecute individuals for the international crimes of genocide, crimes against humanity, war crimes, and the crime of aggression. It is intended to complement existing national judicial systems and it may therefore exercise its jurisdiction only when national courts are unwilling or unable to prosecute criminals. The ICC lacks universal territorial jurisdiction and may only investigate and prosecute crimes committed within member states, crimes committed by nationals of member states, or crimes in situations referred to the Court by the United Nations Security Council.
